The Story

Inspired by an incident from the filmmaker's childhood, Breath captures a moment during a summer's day of play between two young girls. Curiosity and innocence become a liability when one child's fate depends on the other's response to a dangerous accident.

The Director

The short film Breath marks the directorial debut of Ron McDougall, an aspiring filmmaker.

Ron received his Bachelor of Fine Arts from York University. Through many media, he has explored themes such as emotional impotence and isolation, often through a voice both quiet and intense. Ron currently resides in Nova Scotia, working in new media.
